Planning your trip...

Planning your pet's trip does take some time, particularly if you pets are travelling internationally. Many countries have different import protocols which must be followed.

To avoid disappointment and additional boarding costs make sure you allow ample time for all the necessary procedures to be completed. Of course, we are more than happy to advise and support you along the way and make sure that your pet's journey is as smooth and stress free as possible.

Before Travelling.....

Have your pets crate trained – We can provide you with the crate your VIP will travel in and leave it with you for a number of weeks prior to their flight. If the travel container becomes part of your pet's' comfort zone, and your pets feel safe and secure inside their travel container, they will enjoy their journey with a minimum of stress and anxiety.

Let them stretch their legs – Many of our pets are energetic creatures.

Help them to rest easy on the flight by helping them burn off some of that bounce before they fly.

It is important to ensure that your pets have been well exercised prior to travel.

Avoid feeding on the day of travel – No matter how many big, watery eyed looks they give you, feeding on the day of travel is not advisable. However, you can give them small amounts of water or ice cubes to play with.

Sedatives are definitely not recommended for air travel – Crate training and a favorite toy would be far more beneficial for your pet:

Avoid extremely high temperatures – It is advisable to avoid extremely high temperatures when travelling as pets are susceptible to heat stress. However, if travel is unavoidable we will ensure that everything possible is done to keep your VIP cool and comfortable

2018 ROYAL ADELAIDE SHOW

Change of Judge

RAHS WELLCOMES KATHY BLACK – CFA USA

I purchased my first pedigree cat, a Maine Coon, and started exhibiting in 1990 and breeding cats in 1991. I have worked with the following breeds: Somali, Maine Coon, Norwegian Forest Cat, Japanese Bobtail, Oriental and Siamese, Chartreux, and Persians. In CFA, I have served as Somali breed Council secretary, was one of the founding members of the Youth Feline Program (Jr. Showmanship), have mentored many new exhibitors, and a CFA Allbreed judge since 2001. I am the current Regional Director for the Gulf Shore Region and CFA Board member.

Judging has brought me many opportunities to visit many countries and see the expansion of CFA into many new areas. In my private life I sell Life and Health insurance, like to garden working with Daylilies, play the piano and read.
